Child and Adolescent Intensive Treatment Services (CAITS)	Children up to age 21 are eligible for CAITS if moderate to severe behavior problems interfere with a child’s functioning across multiple areas. Children may also be eligible upon transition out of inpatient psychiatric hospitalization, residential treatment, partial hospitalization programs or crisis stabilization programs. Admission to CAITS requires parents/caregivers to actively participate in services. For eligible participants, standard outpatient mental health services have not been effective and/or the child’s current clinical condition has a level of risk that makes CAITS’ higher level of service necessary. No other therapeutic home-based services (i.e. HBTS) can be active during the child’s participation in CAITS. Non-therapeutic in-home supports (i.e. PASS, Respite, etc.) may continue in coordination with CAITS.	Child and Adolescent Intensive Treatment Services (CAITS) is a short-term, intensive program that provides clinical (counseling) and family support services to Medicaid eligible children with moderate to severe emotional and behavioral disturbances. The goal of CAITS is to stabilize children’s functioning to prevent unnecessary psychiatric hospitalization or residential treatment. Services are family-centered and scheduling is flexible with services usually delivered in home and community settings. CAITS is a transitional program intended to stabilize child and family functioning. Up to 16 weeks of services may be provided to a child during a 12 month period, beginning with the first session following authorization. CAITS offers a maximum of 40 hours of clinical services and up to 18 hours of family support services. CAITS will end once the allotted service hours and/or the time limit expires, whichever comes first.	Services available on an ongoing basis.	Please call Intake (401)331-1350 x3162
